

SOME PEOPLE PREFER HOTELS

MOTORHOME NOVICES TOUR CORNWALL

NIGEL ROWLAND HICKS

"Some People Prefer Hotels." That was the reaction of a grumpy old work colleague when told Nigel and Emma had bought a motorhome. Whilst nervously driving to Cornwall for their maiden motorhome holiday during the first heavy rainfall for months, and the driver's windscreen wiper packs up, it seemed he had a point.

What with the rotten weather, wobbly campsite toilet pan, temperamental showers and being cooped up in their confined space with Monty, their faithful Border Terrier, surrounded by dripping wet weather gear and muddy boots, they start to think that buying a motorhome was a huge mistake. Thankfully the weather improves. But as they explore and rediscover some of Cornwall's most idyllic and historic places, with Nigel recalling sentimental memories as well as ranting about everyday annoyances, if something could go wrong, it generally did...

If you haven't already done so, you might just be tempted to buy a motorhome and likewise take to the road. Or, there again, you may prefer hotels!

Reminiscent of Bill Bryson's style, Some People Prefer Hotels is the perfect read for motorhomers and anyone else who enjoys a good travel yarn!
